LE MANUSCRIT HARRACH A-ROI DU CHÂTEAU DE ROHRAU

La famille Harrach a constitué une importante bibliothèque musicale, comprenant de nombreux manuscrits, sur plusieurs générations, du 17^e au 19^e siècle. Presque toute cette musique a été dispersée à titre privé ou lors de ventes aux enchères dans les années 1950, y compris les quatre liasses d'œuvres pour luth du XVIII^e siècle qui font partie d'une grande collection de manuscrits musicaux ex-Harrach acquise par la New York Public Library (MSS Harrach 11-14).

En 2004, sept livres de musique manuscrite du XVIII^e siècle, qui avaient été conservés avec la collection d'art, ont été retrouvés parmi les ouvrages de la bibliothèque Harrach, au château de Rohrau. Parmi eux, deux grands livres de tablatures de luth sont maintenant considérés comme des sources majeures d'œuvres de Silvius Leopols Weiss.

Plusieurs manuscrits contenant ces pièces et ces suites ont vraisemblablement été rassemblées puis reliées à une époque ultérieure à leur copie. Les pages de titre leur ont alors été attribués.

Le premier volume, répertorié A-ROI, est intitulé « Weiss Sylvio - Lautenmusik » et est probablement le plus récent des deux. Il regroupe des manuscrits homogènes réalisées par au moins deux copistes, ainsi que quelques pièces indépendantes. Toutes les tablatures sont pour luth accordé en Ré mineur ; un grand nombre est pour luth à 11 chœurs, mais plusieurs nécessitent les 13 chœurs. Au moins une page, la première, est mal classée et ne figure pas à son rang. Peut-être y a-t-il eu d'autres déclassements ?

De nombreuses pages, situées au début d'une séquence semblable à une suite, portent le nom de Weiss. Une seule pièce est attribuée nominalement à un autre luthiste : M. Schaffniz.

Ce volume A-ROI contient 11 parties (ou suites) en plusieurs mouvements qui sont entièrement ou partiellement uniques. Parmi elles, une suite en La majeur, déjà connue en version luth solo dans divers manuscrits, est ici présentée en trio avec la présence des partitions de violon et de basse. Un Concerto et une Fugue en Do majeur pour deux luths sont ici présents avec les tablatures des deux instruments. La Partie 81 figure aussi dans deux manuscrits de Grüssau/Krzeszów. L'Allegro de cette version ne figure pas ici, dans le volume A-ROI. Toutefois, nous le trouvons nommé « Presto », isolé dans le volume 2 A-ROII. Il a vraisemblablement été déclassé au moment du rassemblement et de la reliure des manuscrits. J'ai pris la liberté de le reclasser et de l'insérer ici à la fin de la Partie 81.

À côté de ces suites attribuées par leur copiste à Silvius Leopold Weiss, trois parties sont anonymes. Bien que dans un style très proche de celui du maître, elles n'ont aucune correspondance dans d'autres manuscrits et elles ne peuvent donc pas lui être imputées formellement.

Préface

Dans cette Suite, il y a mesure 26 de l'Allemande un saut de basse inhabituel : Fa (/a sur le 8^e chœur) Do dièse (e sur le 6^e chœur), un intervalle de quinte augmentée qui me choque personnellement.

J'ai donc opté pour la solution suivante :

Jean-Daniel Forget propose une autre solution, plus proche de l'original :

Mais vous pouvez bien sûr le jouer tel quel (c'est ce que fait Bernhard Hofstötter sur son enregistrement) en veillant, bien entendu, à étouffer la basse Fa après avoir joué le Do dièse.

Dans le Menuet qui précède la Gigue, j'ai repris, mesures 16 à 18, la version de la pièce WeissSW15* du manuscrit de Londres GB-Lbl30387, qui est beaucoup plus aboutie.

Préface

Conseils pour l'apprentissage de cette Suite.

L'Allamande et la Courante de cette Suite font aussi partie de la Partie 88 du manuscrit de Grüssau/Krzeszów PL-Wu2003 (version identique à quelques détails près). L'ajout d'une 3^e voix, mesure 6 de l'Allamande et l'ajout d'un grand nombre de mesures dans la Courante me font penser que la version de Dresde a peut-être été remaniée et que cette version serait postérieure !? Quoi qu'il en soit, l'intérêt de l'Allemande réside dans le contre-chant mesures 6, 27, 29 et 30. Soignez vos doigts et n'hésitez pas à travailler ce contre-chant seul afin de mieux le contrôler lorsque vous jouez toutes les voix ensemble (voir la préface de la Partie 88 dans le manuscrit de Grüssau/Krzeszów PL-Wu2003).

La Sarabande (dans le mode mineur) n'est pas aisée à jouer en raison des nombreuses basses Si bémol et La bémol, particulièrement le 1^{er} temps de la mesure 8 avec l'ornement de la note mélodique. Nous ne pouvons soulager notre main qu'en deux endroits : mesures 10 et 11 où l'on peut jouer le La bémol sur la basse Fa avec le 3^e doigt.

D'un point de vue harmonique, on peut être tenté de jouer une basse Sol mesure 5 ainsi que mesure 35, mais dans le premier cas, nous avons, au lieu du traditionnel enchaînement Sol / Do (V- I), le Fa (septième de l'accord de Sol) qui se résout sur le Mi (tierce de l'accord de Do), créant ainsi un climat différent, moins abrupt. Dans le deuxième cas, un Sol ne serait pas gênant, mais jouer un Fa est sans doute, de la part de l'auteur, une volonté de garder ce même climat.

Je considère, en revanche, que la basse La bémol mesure 12 gagnerait à être changée en Si bémol (b 6^e chœur), recréant ainsi le même climat que dans la mesure 5 : la septième de l'accord de Do (Si bémol) se résolvant sur la tierce de l'accord de Fa mineur (La bémol)

Préface

Nous avons dans cette Suite (Sonata, Sarabande et Gigue notamment) une véritable écriture pour clavier digne de Bach : la basse est en effet très présente, ce qui représente une difficulté supplémentaire sur notre instrument. Je vous conseille d'étudier cette basse seule afin de mieux la contrôler par la suite, lorsque nous devons jouer toutes les voix ensemble.

Nous avons, par ailleurs, dans le « vivace » de la Sonata, le thème des deux premières mesures qui est repris mesures 25/26, 39/40, 44/45, 56/57, 61/62, 71/72, et 80/81 ; une « fausse fugue » en quelque sorte. Il est important de bien faire ressortir ce thème à chaque fois qu'il se présente dans ses différentes tessitures.

Voici maintenant quelques propositions de doigtés :

- Dans le « vivace » de la Sonata, mesure 26, je vous propose de jouer le Mi [r] sur le 5^e chœur, ce qui permet, au prix d'une extension, de garder le 2^e doigt sur la chanterelle au contact de la corde (il sert de pivot en glissant et ce, jusqu'à la mesure suivante).

- Il y a dans la Sarabande, mesure 30 à partir du 2^e temps, un changement d'atmosphère qui se prête tout à fait à une petite reprise (si vous le souhaitez).

- Dans la Gigue :
- mesure 15, je vous propose de jouer la 3^e note : Sol sur la chanterelle [r], afin d'améliorer le legato et de garder la main place.

- mesure 31, je vous propose de jouer la basse Si [r] 6^e chœur, afin de ne pas lâcher cette basse et d'assurer le legato et notamment la liaison (coulé descendant).
